Original Poetry.

For the Republican.

MY FATHER, FRIEND AND HOME.

I have a friend, a precious friend, unchanging, wise and true,
The chiefest among ten thousand; Oh. I wish you knew him too,
Encompassed with a host of foes, weary in heart and limb,
I know who waits to soothe my woes. Have you a friend like Him!

He comforts me, He Strengthens me; how can I then repine,
He loveth me—This faithful Friend—in life and death is mine;
I have a father true and fond, He cares for all my needs,
His patience bore my faithless ways, my mad and foolish deeds.

To me, He sends sweet messages, He waiteth but to bless,
Have you a father like to mine, in such deep tenderness?
For me a kingdom doth he keep, for me a crown is won,
I was a rebel once, He calls the rebel child his son.

I have a proved, unerring guide; whose love I often grieve,
He brings me golden promises, my heart can scarce receive,
He leadeth me, and hope and cheer earth for my path provide,
For dreary nights and day of drought, have you so sure a guide.

Quench not the faintest whisper, the Heavenly love may bring,
He seeks to love with Holy love, the wanderer, 'neath his wing;
I have a home, a home so bright, its beauties none can know,
Its sapphire pavements, and such palms, none ever saw below.

Its golden streets resound with joy, its pearly gates with praise,
A temple standeth in the midst, no human hands could raise;
And there unfailing fountains flow, and pleasures never end,
Who makes that home so glorious—it is my loving Friend.

My friend, my Father; and my guide, and this our radiant home,
Are offered you—turn not away—to day,
I pray you come,
My Father yearns to welcome you, His heart, his house to share.
My friend is yours, my Home is yours. my Guide will lead you there.

Behold one altogether fair, the faithful and the true,
He pleadeth with you for your love, He gave this life for you;
Oh! leave the worthless, things you seek, they perish in a day,
Serve now the true and living God, from Idols turn away;

Watch for the Lord who comes to reign, enter the open door,
Give him thine heart, thy broken heart thou'll ask it back nomore;
Trust Him for grace, and strength, and love, and all thy troubles end,
Oh, come to Jesus, and behold, in Him my loving Friend.

DALTON OHIO. S. S.

Select Miscellany.

"Capital Fun."

It was a little past twelve o'clock, and a merry group of boys were seated on the young grass, under the trees that shaded the Academy play ground. A little later, and they would be scattered in every direction at their play; but first they must attend to the contents of well-filled pails and baskets where their dinners were stored away

"I should like to know," said Howard Colby, "why Jos Green never comes out here to eat his dinner with the rest of us, but always sneaks off somewhere till we all get through?"

'Guess he brings so many goodies, he is afraid we shall rob him," said another.

"Pho!" said Will Brown, throwing himself back on the grass, "more likely he does'nt have anything at all. I heard my father say that the family must be badly pinched since Mr. Green was killed; and mother said she did'nt pity them, for folks had no busines to be poor and proud."

"Well," said Sam Merrill, "I know Mary Green asked my mother to have plain sewing to do; but then folks do that sometimes that aren't very poor."

"And Joe is wearing his winter clothes all this warm weather, and his pants are patched behind—I saw them, 'said Howard Colby, with a very complacent look at his new spring suit of light gray.

"I tell you what, boys," said Will Brown, "let's look to-morrow, and she what the old fellow does bring anyway. You know he is always in his seat by the time the first bell ring, and we can get a peep into his basket, and then be in season for roll call."

The boys agreed to this, but Ned Collins, who had sat quietly eating his dinner, and taking no part in the conversation. Now he simply remarked, as he brushed the crumbs from his lap, "I can't see what fun there will be in that, and it looks real mean and sneaking to me.—I'm sure it is none of our business what Joe brings for dinner, or where he goes to eat it."

"Youre're always such a granny, Ned Collins," said Will Brown contemptuously. "You've got every one of your old aunt Sally's notions."

Ned could not bear to be laughed at, and it made him a little angry to hear his kind old aunt sneered at, but his eyes only flashed for a minute, and then he sprang up, shouting, "Hurrah, boys, for football!" and in five minutes the whole play-ground was in an uproar of fun and frolic.

The next morning, at the first stroke of the bell, a half dozen rogueish faces peeped into the school-room, and sure tenough, there was Joe Green, busy plying his pencil over the problems of the algebra lesson. It was but the work of an instant, a hurry into the little clothes room, and soon the whole group was pressing around Will Brown, as he held the mysterious basket in his hand.—Among them, in spite of the remonstrance of yesterday, was Ned Collins, with his fine face fairly crimson with shame, or something else; we shall see.

"It is big enough to hold a day's rations for a regiment," said Henry Colby, as Will pulled out a nice white napkin.—Next came a whole newspaper, a large one, too; and then, in the bottom of the basket, was ONE LITTLE COLD POTATO; that was all. Will held it up with a comical grimace, and the boys laughed and cheered as loudly as they dared in the school house.

"See here, said Howard, let's throw it away and fill the basket with coal and things: it will be such fun to see him open it."

The boys agreed, and the basket was soon filled, and the napkin placed carefully on the top, and before the bell commenced tolling they were on their way down stairs.

Ned Collins was the last to leave the room, and no sooner did the last disappear than, quick as flash, he emptied the coal into the box again, replaced the paper, and half-filled the basket, large as it was, with the contents of the bright tin pail that aunt Sally delighted to store with dainties for her darling's dinner. Ned was in his seat almost as soon as the rest, and all through the forenoon he looked and felt as guilty as the others, as he saw the sly looks and winks that were exchanged among them. Noon came, and there was the usual rush to the clothes-room for dinner baskets; but instead of going out to the yard, the boys lingered about the door and hall. Straight by them marched Ned Collins, with his pail on his arm.

"Hello, Ned," said Sam Merrill, 'where are you going now?"

"Home," said Ned, laughing, "I saw aunt Sally making a chicken pie this morning, and I am going home to get some."

"Ask me to go, too," shouted Howard Colby; but just at that moment they saw Joe Green carrying his basket into the school-room.

"I should think he'd suspect something, whispered Will Brown; that coal must be awful heavy."

Joe disappeared in the school-room, and the curious eyes that peered through the crack of the door were soon rewarded by seeing him open his basket.

"Hope his dinner won't lie heavy on his stomach," whispered Howard Colby.

But apparently Joe only wished to get his paper to read, for he took it by the corner and pulled, but it was fast. He looked in surprise, and then in a sort of bewildered way, took out a couple of aunt Sally's great crispy doughnuts, then one of the delicious round pies he had often seen in Ned's hands, bread and butter, and such honey as nobody's bees but her's ever made, and the plump white breast of a chicken. It was a dinner for a king; so poor Joe thought, as they peeped wonderingly from their hiding-place. But Joe did not offer to taste it; he only sat there, and looked at it with a pale face, over which the tears began presently to flow very fast. Then he leaned his head on his desk, and Freddie Wilson, one of the smallest boys, whispered, "I guess he's praying'"; so they all stole away to the play-ground without speaking another word.

"That's seme of Ned Collin's work," said Will Brown after a while. "It's just like him."

"I'm glad of it, any way," said Sam Merrill; "I've felt as mean all the forenoon as if I had been robbing a hen-roost. The Green's are not to blame for only having cold potatoes to eat, and I don't wonder that Joe didn't want us fellows to know it.

"I like Joe Green the best of any boy in school," said little Freddie Wilson, "and I think it was too bad to try and make fun of him."

"Nobody asked what you thought," said Will Brown, fiercely; "wait till your opinion is called for."

The little boy looked very meek, and ate his dinner in silence, but the fact was, Will Brown began to feel uncomfortable.

"Father says Mr. Green was the bravest man in the company," said Sam Merrill, "and that he wouldn't have been killed, only he thought of every one else before himself."

"I tell you what," said good natured Tom Granger, "I move and second that we are all ashamed of ourselves; all in favor of this motion will signify it by giving three cheers for Ned Collins—there he comes this minute, brimful of chicken pie."

The boys sprang to their feet, and swinging their caps in the air, gave three hearty cheers for Ned Collins, and even Will Brown joined the chorus with as loud a hurrah as any of them. Sam Merrill explained the thing to Ned and he only said in reply, "I've often heard aunt Sally say that 'it was a poor kind of fun that must be earned by hurting somebody's feelings,' and what aunt Sally says is almost always so."—Wood's Household Magazine.

A MARE'S nest—A stable.

A Good One.

AN ILLINOIS LADY LIVES TWENTY YEARS WITHOUT SEEING A MINISTER.

A Methodist minister was on his travels through the west of Illinois twenty years ago. Illinois was a wild place then. He traveled twenty one miles one day before coming to a farm-house. But there he was received with hospitality. Chicken pot-pie and corn-dodgers composed his supper; but to a hungry man these are as good as a truffled turkey.

A fine old grandmother of the house was most profuse in her hospitality. She pressed the pot-pie on the good man's plate till he could eat no more. And then, when the family was gathered around the great log chimney and its blazing fire, the venerable dame opened her mouth, and thus spake:

"Ah, well-a-day! it's a grand comfort to have a minister of the Gosple in these parts. It's a twenty years ago since I have seen one on'em. I've been a readin'o' my Bible all that time, a waitin' to see a minister to ax him a question about suthin' I don't rightly understand."

"Madam," answered the cautioning minister, "I am so tired with my long ride that I could not enter into a serious question till I have slept, but if you will ask me to-morrow morning, before I set out, I will answer it to the best of my ability."

The old lady expressed herself satisfied, and the cunning minister secured a soft couch for the night. The next morning grandma was up early, and hard at work frying slapjacks for the minister's breakfast. This last being dispatched the old lady was still in a nervous fidget about her question, wile the holy man's horse was saddle and brought to the door.

After adjusting his saddle-bags and shaking hands with all the family, he mounted his horse, and turning to her, asked:

"And now, Medam, what is your question?"

"Waal, minister," said she, "yer know how it sez in the Bible that arter Elisha was made a prophet, the heavens opened and Elijah was taken up to heaven in a chariot an' horses o' fire. It's better than twenty years since I seed that ere in the Bible, and I have puzzled over it ever since; and there ain't a soul roun' these diggins knows any more nor I. But you're a minister o' the Gosple, an' ought to know all them things. What I want to know is this: Did the Lord take up Elijah right slick to heaven, or didn't he go kinder slantendicular?"

History has not recorded the minister'r reply.

How Battles are Fought.

How is a battle fought? With tremendous volleys, the ranks standing firm and steady as on dress parade—with enthusiasm, with deafening cheers, with music, and finished by a glorious bayonet charge? Nothing of the kind. Here are simple some thousandy of men on either side who have been marched out this pleasant day to butcher each other. Modern firearms are terribly effective weapons; a good Springfield musket will kill at a thousand yards; and by the time you have drawn these opposing forces to within two hundred yards of each other, or about the distance across a goodsized wheat-field, the battle is resolved into a simple killing and wounding without breaking up? When that question is answered, you can tell which side will be victorious. The business of the officers is to hold the men to the work—to compel them to load and fire until so many of the enemy are put hors de combat that he is forced to withdraw. Take your regiment into battle as orderly as you may, before it has been under fire half an hour it will become resolved into knots and groups from the drawing together to fill the places of those stricken down, and the survivors will be lying or kneeling, forced down by the irresistible instinct of self-preservation.—Lippincott's.

MARRIED MEN.—There is an expression in the face of a good man who has a good wife, that a bachelor's cannot have. It is indiscribable. He is a little nearer the angels than the prettiest young fellow living. You can see that his broad breast is a pillow for somebody's head, and that little fingers pull his whiskers. No one mistakes the good married man. It is the erratic one, who leaves you in doubt. The good one can protect all the unprotected females, and make himself generally agreeable to the ladies, and yet never leave a doubt on any mind that there is a precious little woman at home worth all the world to him.

A YOUNG woman in one of the rural towns of New Hampshire was desirous o teaching school in a neighboring village, and got this document from the selectman: "This is to certify that Tamar Noyes stands on a medium with other girls of her age and sex, and for what I know is as good as folks in general." Tamar got the school.

WHAT is difficulty? Only a word indicating the degree of strength requisite for accomplishing different objects; a bugbear to children and cowards, but a stimulus to men.

THE Spring style of bonnets is something like a sunflower on top of a brush heap.

A white pine tree was recently cut near Escanaba, which scaled 7,836 feet.

TALK about alliteration! The following, which we find in the Miner's Journal, goes ahead of anything we have seen in that line lately:

Promenading.—Plenty of proud, piggish, pleasant, primp, pompous, pretentious, political, plump, prejudiced, plucky, pitiful pinchpenny pert pretty, profane, pious, pharisaical, prayerful, prodigal, plodding, prepossessing, presumptuous, philanthropic, puerile, prudish, prosy, pompous perfumed, polished, practical, poor, purse-proud, praiseworthy, pushing, progressive, polite, pusillanimous, pedantic, prattling, powdered, painted, profligate, prudent, pink-eyed, pig-headed, proper, prosperous, popular, portly, pondering, provincial, phlegmatic, philosophical, profound, picayune, prying, pugnacious, puffy, prompt, professional punctilious, punchy, punctual, precise potential, portionless, perambulating, pre eminent, preaching, pure, positive, polite, powwowing, pioneering, poking, pimpled petite, perverse, pensive, paradoxical, peculiar, penetrative, passionate, playful, pliant, persuasive, philomanthic, petted, perfidious, patent, partial, peripatetic, pilfering, plain, platonic, piqued, plausible, plotting, poetical, persevering, perplexed, plundering, parsimonious, patronizing, parasitical, palavering people, paraded Pottsville's principal parades yesterday afternoon.

We think the getter up of the above must have gone through the dictionary for words commencing with the letter "p."

A TEMPERANCE family in Nevada consisted of the husband, his wife and two grown sons. The old lady was the only one of the family who did not take a little of the "O, be joyful."—Sitting by the fire a few minutes, the old man tipped a wink, and the visitor followed him out. Stopping by a shed, he pulled out a long necked bottle, remarking, "I have to keep this hid, for the boys might get to drinking, and the old woman would raise the devil." They took a drink and returned to the fireside, Soon Tom, the eldest son, asked the visitor out to see a horse, and taking him pull on his arm. behind the barn, pulled out a flask, remarking, "I have to keep this hid, for the old man will get drunk, and then the devil is to pay;', and they both took a drink and returned.—Soon Bob stepped on the visitor's toe and walked off, the visitor following. As they reached the pig pen, Bob drew out a good sized bottle, remarking, "You know the old man and Tom will get drunk, and I have to hide this." Our friend concluded he could not stand it to drink confidentially against the whole family, and started back to Geld Hill.

IT doth amaze us! First they put strychnine in the public tipple of whiskey, which was treating the consumers like dogs. Then they put cocculus indicus and aloes in beer, as if there were not six bitters to one sweet in life before. They put sand in our sugar, peas in our coffee, corn meal in our mustard, and chalk in our milk. That was enough; and after taking a dose of all these hideous adulterations, and surviving to tell the tale, it did appear that one might set up as bullet proof. But here Dr. Letheby puts in an appearance and strikes the last peg from under human comfort. Tea, says the delightful literal Letheby, "is composed of dried silkworms, dust, dirt, and a solution of gum, the flavor being imparted by tea-siftings." Avaunt, Letheby! Cleopatra has been scouted for drinking her pearls, time out of mind.—But what shall be said of the woman of the nineteenth century, who swallows decoctions of inchoate silk dresses?" And yet why should not John Chinaman utilize disabled silkworms? —Saturday Courier.

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN.

W. W. BROWN, A. B. HUTCHISON, } EDITORS.

Terms $2 Per Annum in Advance.

BELLEFONTE, PA.,

Wednesday Morning, April 20, 1870.

ADVERTISING.—The Bellefonte Republican has now a Circulation as Large, if not Larger, than the Democratic Watchman, and fully 900 more than any other Republican paper published in the County. Our Merchants and Business Men will please make a note of this.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!!

The Bellefonte "Republican" and the "American Agriculturist."

We are now prepared to offer to the people of Centre county, a Great Bargain for the coming year. It is this: To every subscriber who will send us $3.00, in advance, we will send the

and the

for one year. Of the REPUBLICAN we need not speak at present.

The American Agriculturist is a work that no farmer, nor house-keeper should be without. As a farm-journal we think it has no superior in the world—certainly none in the United States. It is issued monthly, and the subscription price is $1.50 per annum. By clubing with the REPUBLICAN you save fifty cents, and secure more good reading matter than you can obtain in any other way for the same money.

We hope the reading public will avail themselves of this very liberal offer.

THE Oil City Times says: "Six men have died in Oil City in the last six weeks from excessive drinking, and at least six more will die from the same cause in the next six weeks. The tangle foot sold here may be slow, but it is mighty sure."

CONGRESSIONAL.—Under the head of Congressional, will be seen a Bill offered by our member Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong, which was read twice and referred to the Judiciary Committee and ordered to be printed. We hope it will become a law, as it will be a great convenience to our people.

Commodore Upshur will appear this week before a court-martial on charges based on his complicity in the sales of a cadetship. We shall now have a chance to see how the naval compares with the Congressional conscience on this question of public morals.

COURT WEEK.—Court commences on next Monday the 25th inst. We invite every Republican in the County who may have business in town, to call at our office and see our splendid Gordon Press. And while we thank, most heartily, those of our subscribers who have paid in advance, we respectfully invite all those who have not paid their subscription to call and do so next week. However, friends, money, or no money, call and see us. We like to see your friendly faces and shake your friendly hands.

THE MCFARLAND TRIAL.—Daniel McFarland's trial for the killing of A. D. Richardson, commenced in New York, on the 4th inst., before Recorder Hacket. About 2,000 jurors were summoned, of whom over 600 were present. Three days were absorbed by the Court in selecting jurors for the trial. Much interest is manifested on the part of the people, the court room being constantly crowded with spectators. It is said the prisoner is calm and composed, and feels sanguine of acquittal. It is also said that there are to be new developments brought out in this trial. We have no opinion to express on either side, and only hope that the prisoner may have a fair and impartial hearing, and the great WRONG committed, rest where it belongs.

NOBODY HURT.—At a special election in this Borough on last Friday, to elect a Justice of the Peace, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Samuel L. Barr, Esq., fifteen American citizens of African decent marched up to the polls and deposited their votes. We had thought that when our Democratic friends would see these colored citizens voting, they would refuse to vote, as we have heard many of them declare they would quit voting so soon as the niggers would become voters. They thought better of it, however, and deposited their votes quietly, as usual. Tom McCafferty, during the day, was heard to say that R. C. Cheesman would certainly be elected, for the Niggers, the Irish Brigade, and the entire Democratic party were supporting him. Tom is quite a philosopher, and something of a prophet.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.—Maj. R. C. Cheesman was elected Justice of the Peace on last Friday in this Borough by a majority of 61 votes. The Democrats feeling that they were in a hopeless minority did not nominate a candidate. Our old friend and true and tried Republican Jesse Klinger who was defeated in the nominating caucus, feeling aggrieved at the action of the caucus was prevailed upon to run as an independent candidate.—He no doubt sees now that he made a mistake. But we are all human and therefore liable to err. We are not perfect. We are not angels.—Therefore, now that the election is over, let us bear an forbear, forgive that we may be forgiven, and close up our ranks; so that we will be able to present a bold and united front to our enemies and the enemies of the Constitution and of our free institutions in the next fall elections.

Hypocrisy.

On every hand we notice hollow-hearted protestations that Democracy does not want the negro vote. The words of a Delaware Senator have hardly died on the gale before the announcement comes that the Fifth ward Democrats, have ordained and established a colored club house. It is, of course, ornamented with trappings of the party, many of them, we presume, transferred from the headquarters at Ninth and Arch streets. A colored Democrat has been found to preside over the new-fangled spider-web. The logic of the party is daily and nightly used in the shape of Jersey lightning. As the supply depends entirely on the generosity of the Fifth-ward politicians it of course will be inexhaustible. An ostentatious placard invites the passer-by to enter the "Democratic Colored Headquarters," and in obedience to the invitation, or rather in anticipation of it, a grand opening night was had in honor of the landlord and such converts as he might make. The ceremonies were of the order generally approved of by Fifth-ward Aldermen and Councilmen. Many dignitaries of the party were present, and the wassail was enchanting. On the night of the induction the colored Democratic landlord doubtless had the felicity of wheeling some of the white brethren and patrons home. Lombard street, above Fifth, is honored above all other localities, since it boasts a negro proselyting mill, established under the auspices of and run solely in the interests of the model Democracy of the Fifth-ward.—Phila. Press.

Victory.

The Democrats never have a word to say about the glorious Republican victories gained in the different States this spring. They have not a word to say to their readers on the unprecedented Republican victory in little Rhode Island. They forget all about the sweeping Republican victory in the Toledo Ohio Congressional District, where a Congressman was chosen to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Hoag. The Republican, Dr. E. D. Peck, was elected by 2,797 majority over Hill, Democrat. In the fall of 1868, Mr. Hoag, Democratic candidate, was elected by 912, a Republican gain of 3,709.

What have they to say of the glorious triumph in favor of the Bible and Republicanism in Cincinnati recently? Of these things—these bright spots on the political horizon—they have nothing to say; but of anything that sounds like English, whether it be English commerce, in preference to American, English goods, English laws, English Free Trade in preference to Protection to American Industry, or Gov. English of Connecticut, they become enthusiastic and tire their little souls by their desperate howlings.

A Shabby Defence of a Shabby Man.

Some low villain, some man who is low enough to steal, rob, and if not too cowardly, mean enough to commit murder, writes quite a long article in the Watchman last week in defence of J. G. Meyer.

It is not often we notice anonymous scribblers; nor would we refer to the broadmouthed author of the article in question, but for the purpose of calling the attention of our readers and the honest Democrats of Centre Co., to the fact, that even decent Democrats are ashamed to defend Jacob G. Meyer, over their own signatures. P. G. Meek, has so far refused, or refrained from defending him editorially. Fred Kurtz, reckless, ignorent and unreliable as he is politically, is only skirmishing, refusing to enter the merits of the case. The thankless task of defending our worthless Legislative member is left for some scoundrel without character—some villain, the publishing of whose name as the "Vindicator" of J. G. Meyer, would, if possible, kill Mr. Meyer, doubly dead.

Congress.

In the House of Representatives, April 12, 1870. Read twice, referred to the Committee on Judiciary, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Armstrong, on leave, introduced the following bill relating to certain counties of the western judicial district of Pennsylvania:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all process, in all actions and prosecutions, and all judicial proceedings at law or in equity, which shall hereafter arise, and in which the defendant or defendants shall reside in any of the following counties of the western district of Pennsylvania, viz: Wyoming, Union, Northumberland, Montour, Columbia, Sullivan, Bradford, Tioga, Lycoming, Snyder, Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Cameron, and Potter, shall be issued from and returnable to the courts of said district, to be holden at Williamsport, and, together with all suits, prosecutions, or business heretofore begun, pending and undetermined, arising from any of the said counties, shall be heard or tried there only; unless with the consent of parties, the court shall direct the same to be heard or tried at the courts to be holden at Pittsburg or Erie, in said district.

SMALL FAVORS.—The Democrats—poor devils—appear to be thankful for small favors. They have often carried Connecticut. They found rebels enough in that State to carry it in the darkest hours of the war. Nevertheless they crow over the recent election of English to the Gubernatorial chair, as a great victory. They forget to tell their readers that Gov. English will be powerless, the Senate and House being largely Republican. Rather a barren victory.

A Glorious Result.

The Anti-Bible-in-Common-School-party received a sound thrashing at the election in Cincinnati, on the 4th inst. The Republican victory is about 4,000.

The morning after the election, the Cincinnati Gazette, referring to the decision of the school question, addresses the Anti-Bible, or Catholic party, in the following language:

"The election says: "Hold off your hands. Into the country you are permitted to come. In it you are allowed to work and toil. Over you, for your protection, the banner of the Republic floats, and the nation will defend you as it will defend its citizens against wrongs and oppressions. You shall be allowed to praise God in your own way. You shall be under the ban of no disabling act. shall not have to complain that you are not equal before the law in every way to every other citizen. Nay, more, we will not only give you the freedom, that every citizen enjoys, but we will throw open to you the doors of our schools, as to white and black, Christian, Pagan, Jew, or Gentile. The public schools shall be, in the broadest sense, unsectarian; but the Bible shall be read fer those who revere it; if you object and are desirous of teaching your children in your own way, then into these schools shall be admitted your own Bible, and only those words that the church itself approves shall they be asked to listen to. If for any other reason you prefer an other course, you shall have liberty to keep your children from the schools while the morning lessons are being read. Though you owe supreme allegiance to a foreign potentate, not one privilege which the nation extends to all citizens shall be denied you. But if at the word of Priest or Pope you attempt to obtain greater or more exclusive privileges, then we bid you stay. These schools were handed down to us by our fathers, and their importance to the well being and existence of the State, time and the testimony of your ablest men have borne true and abundant witness."

These are words of soberness and reason. The result in Cincinnati, while it shows that that city is sound, morally and politically; also proves that in city or country throughout our broad domain, wherever this question of the Bible in common schools is agitated, the result will be the same way.

METHODISM.

The Mortality Among the Bishops—An Extra Session of the General Conference Necessary.

The Methodist Episcopal Church has of late suffered in a remarkable manner from the death or retirement of its leading men.

At the close of last year there were nine Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church (North), viz.: Thomas A. Morris, Edmund S Janes, Levi Scott, Mathew Simpson, Osmon C. Baker, Edward R. Ames, Davis W. Clark, Edward Thomson and Calvin Kingsley. The last two have recently died. Bishop Morris is unable to attend to any duties, and is gradually sinking into the grave. Bishop Janes is very feeble, and scarcely able to attend to his duties. Bishop Scott, through increasing infirmities, is able to do but little official work. Bishop Clark has recently had apoplectic attacks, leaving the work largely to Bishops Janes, Simpson and Ames. The death of Bishop Kingsley, and the failing health of others, renders it probable that an extra session of the General Conference will soon be called, which, if done, will be the first time in the history of the M. E. Church that such meeting has been held.

The Discipline provides for this emergency in Part II, chap. I, sec. I, and is as follows:

The General Conference shall meef on the first day of May, in the year of our Lord 1812, in the city of N. Y. and thence forward on the first day of May, once in four years perpetually, in such place or places as shall be fixed on by the General Conference from time to time, but the general Superintendents, or a majority of them by or with the advice of two-thirds of all the Annual Conferences or if there be no general Superintendents two thirds of all the annual Conferences shall have power to call an extra session of the General Conference at any time, to be constituted in the usual way.

There are about seventy Annual Conference in the Church, and it will require two-thirds of them to call the extra session.

EX-GOVERNOR Bigler is on a tour of observation through East and Middle Tennessee, and the south eastern part of Kentucky, where with a number of capitalists, he has invested largely in lands. The governor speaks glowingly of the country, and describes it as being rich in timber, iron, coal and limestone.

The South, or some other hot secession country is the right place for Gov. Bigler. It would be a blessing to the world if W. A. Wallace, Heister Clymer. Judge Woodward and all that class of secession copperheads would go with him. We understand that brimstone as well as iron is plenty in that country.

A new Confederate note was lately sent to Butler, indorsed on the back. "Pass the bearer at Hell's Gate," and signed, "Abraham Lincoln," and countersigned "B. F. Butler." The recipient of this favor examined it, and remarked that the man who sent it had some common sense, at least, for he knew that such currency would not pass even in hell without good indorsers.

The rebel organs of the South nearly all, have come out in favor of Judge Chase as the Democratic and rebel nominee for the next Presidency. Judge Chase must feel proud of his "unrepentant" supporters. His recent decisions and the Cincinnati letter inspire the rebels and give them confidence in the Judge.

Recollections of 1861-2—No. 3.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:

In my last letter, I left you standing at the gate at Camp Curtin. Presuming that you are still there, you may now walk in, if you like, and look around. Camp Curtin was the mill from which Pennsylvania soldiers were ground out. Citizen recruits were thrown into the great hopper, and after considerable grinding, they came out the flower of the army.

We came here citizens, and it was the business of the officers to transform us into soldiers. We doffed our citizen's clothes, and donned our 'suits of blue.' Uncle Samuel never was very particular about the "get up" of his clothes, and little attention he paid to style. They were of durable material, and of good standing color; but the fit was nothing to boast of—pantaloons quite roomy, and blouses short enough to show the fit of the pantaloons to advantage. Shoes like gunboats, but very comfortable; as we learned in the days that tried shoe's soles. Our feet were not handsome when encased in them; but corns disappeared, and we were led to exclaim, often, oh, comfort! thy name is army shoes!

Patriotic daughters of the old Keystone furnished our socks. Fair hands knitted thousands of pairs of socks and sent them to the army. By great boxes full they came to Camp Curtin.—Many of them contained slips of paper upon which was written the name and Post-office address of the lady who made them. Many were the letters of thanks written by the boys to these ladies. Some kept up a pleasant correspondence for a long time.

Who could write about army clothes, and forget those caps—those beautiful caps—those caps of blue—so shapely and elegant.

A man certainly never looks so ungainly and awkward, as when, dressed up in badly fitting uniform, he appeared for the first time in ranks. Awkward, when motionless, and ridiculously so when undertaking to execute the simplest movement.

Major Tarbutton drilled the officers, and the officers the men, and we soon became so well drilled that we could stand in a pretty straight row—provided we stood perfectly still. To move, was fatal to the alignment.

The surrendering, in a great measure of personal freedom, and coming down to military discipline was a difficult task for the boys, whom their lives-long, had been as free from restraint as the winds of the mountains. Some put their heads quietly into the bridle and opened their mouths to the bit; others had to be "broken in" as they did their colts at home.

At Harrisburg, we drew our arms—Belgian muskets, or "field pieces," as the boys called them, on account of their weight, which was something like fifteen pounds. Excellent guns to make a noise, and their "kick" was equal to that of a government mule.

You may think that I exaggerate when I say that some of those pieces would throw a ball as much as ten paces before striking the ground, which it was sure to do about that distance with a "thup" which was amusing.—Fine guns for Sharp-shooters-Brown's sharp-shooters.

Some of those good boys were sharp shooters—though in earnest, and could close the eye of a squirrel in the top of the tallest Pennsylvania pine, while some of us would have missed a barn door, at ten paces, with a telescope rifle—sharp shooters!

Our proud day was when Governor Andy Curtin, who had been our fellow townsman, presented us with our Regimental colors. Curtin, you know, could speak upon any subject; but when he came before his soldiers to exhort them to deeds of valor and devotion to country, then he was great. On this occasion each of us felt great. Any two of us could have "put ten thousand to flight." The night we lost that flag I think we did not feel so great. I will tell you about this feat by and by.

Some time prior to this presentation of colors, Capt. Corman's company, composed of Centre county boys, came to Camp Curtin; also Capt. Frank Huston's company. We were all attached to the same Regiment—the 56th Penna. Corman's company was designated "F," Huston's company, "I," and Brown's company, "H."

The 56th was commanded by Col. Meredith, of Phila. He may have been a very good lawyer, but as a military man he was not a success. Lieut. Col. Hofmann was far his superior as a man and a soldier. Though not a West Pointer, Hofmann had made military tactics the study of his life.—We disliked him at first because we, in our ignorance of the requirements of army life, could not see the necessity of so much discipline as he endeavored to enforce. We soon come to know upon whom to depend under any circumstances.

And we had a Major—we had a Major, and his name was Smith—familiar name; and our Major, whose name was Smith, had a military mustache, and I'll tell you sometime or other how this mustache came suddenly to grief, on old Potomac's shore. And our Major, whose name was Smith, was a dutchman of German decent. A better-hearted old man you would not find in a thousand, and his horse's name was "Dan." Don't forget that it was the horse whose name was Dan, and not the Major, for the Major's name was Smith. The Maj. knew what the "bosition" of a soldier should be. He always maintained that position, and was forever cautioning the boys to "helt up your heats, poys, and dake de bosition of a soldier." And the Major's name was Smith, and the horse's name was Dan. I'll tell you one of these days, how Dan came to grief, in Virginia. Smith was the Major, and Dan was the horse—mind.

Like all well regulated regiments, we had a Chaplain, I don't remember his name, and I'm glad I don't. If there ever was a man whose naue I am glad to forget, that Chaplain's the man. A good Chaplain was always a blessing to a regiment, and I never knew a good, consistent christian, in this position who did not command the respect of the men. We did not respect our Chaplain any more than he deserved, and he did not deserve much.

Our Adjutant was Jacob Churr—a brick—a regular brick. Jacob, if this meets your eye, write me a letter, for I would like to hear from you.—The boys will always remember good-hearted Adjutant Churr.

Very early in the spring—about the 1st of March, I think, we received orders to proceed to Washington. After all necessary preliminaries, we boarded the cars at Harrisburg, for the front, and on these cars you may remain until I write again.

EN QUAD.

CHICAGO, April 14, 1870.

For the Republican.

Educational.

In accordance with the suggestion given in the March number of the School Journal, many of the schools of the county closed with public examinations. The practice is a good one, and it is hoped, by another year, will become general.

Indolent and incompetent teachers, or those who, through want of enthusiasm in themselves, fail to impart that spirit to their pupils, are the only ones that need fear to collect into their schools, the directors, patrons and friends, to witness the result of their work.

We regret very much that we were unable to be present at many of these examinations; but wherever held they seem to have given general satisfaction, and to have inspired teachers and pupils with renewed zeal.

We had the pleasure of attending one of these examinations at the close of the Rebersburg Grammar School, a few days ago, in which all the pupils participated, and which, throughout, exhibited the two prime conditions of a good school-order and thoroughness.

The examination was rigid, and so conducted as to bring out the true standing of each pupil; not a mere parade of questions and answers prepared for the occasion, but in every respect such as to satisfy every one that it was the result of the patient, daily labor of the school room. The exercises were interspersed with vocal music and a few essays and declamations.

A large number of citizens, patrons of the school, were present; but we regret to say not one director.

TO DIRECTORS.

As most of the Common Schools are now either closed or about to close, it is probable that many private schools will be opened in the public school-houses. Directors should not grant the use of the school-house to incompetent persons. As a general rule the teachers of the public schools should have the preference, and none without a valid certificate should be granted the use of the house.

The annual district report and certificate must both be forwarded at the same time—must be forwarded as soon after the 1st of June as possible, and in no case later than the 15th of July.

It has been ascertained that in a few instances schools have been kept open on Saturday. This is contrary to law, and the days thus taught cannot be counted. Where there are no institutes, the schools must be kept open twenty-two days, none of which must be Saturdays. In order to obtain the State appropriation, the President of the Board must swear that the school law was complied with, and if the schools are allowed to be kept open on Saturday, this oath cannot be taken. Where irregularities of this or any other kind, exist, the Secretary should consult the County Superintendent in regard to making out the report.

The attention of Directors is also called to section 93 and 94 of the school law, in regard to the settlement required of the district Treasurer, before the Township Auditors, as well as with the School Board; and also to section 71, which reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the Board of Directors to publish an annual statement of the amount of moneys received and expended, and the amount due from collectors, and setting forth all the financial operations of the District, in not less than ten written or printed handbills, to be put up in the most public places in the District."

This section has, in many districts, not been complied with, thereby causing more or less dissatisfaction. Directors are reminded that this is also a part of the law which the President has to swear "was complied with."

Directors, when visiting Bellefonte, will confer a favor by calling at the Register's office, in the Court House, and obtaining the Annual School Report of 1869.

TO TEACHERS.

I am glad to remark the promptness with which teachers, generally, have forwarded the reports of their schools to the County Superintendent. There is yet, however, a considerable number out. Will delinquents please "hurry up" the reports.

R. M. MAGEE.

Two new blast furnaces are to be built at West Middlesex, Mercer county, during the coming summer, and there is a rumor that a rolling mill will also be built there before long.

The Demand of the Hour.

The natural disposition of our people, chiming in with the spirit of the season, is to be cheerful and hopeful in the highest degree, and to encourage this temperament, there is everything of the right kind around us except proper management of the national finances. The land teem's with plenty; the scars left by civil war are disappearing; enterprise leaps to grander undertaking than ever before; the national domain of cultivated land is widening, and to fill it, thousands upon thousands of sturdy arms are coming to us from all parts of the world, no great calamity or pestilence has fallen upon us, and war's alarms that shake the prosperity of so many friendly nations, are now witheld from us: the emancipation of an enslaved race has been accomplished, on our soil, at last amid general rejoicing; and our country, to-day, occupies the proudest and the freest place upon the list of humanity. Yet, in spite of this fair exhibit of the situation, the wheels of business at our great marts seem locked, and the spell of some stupefying influence holds our industry in check.

At this very moment every telegraphic despatch and every mail from Europe repeats the announcement of overflowing capital at all the money markets, there. The deposit and assets of the Bank of England and the Bank of France increase day after day, and even in Constantinople there is abundance of money. No project, however venturesome, on the other side, need lack ample means; nay, in many cases, the funds go forth to seek the speculator in public works. Still more, notwithstanding the improvements required on the Suez Canal, the additional supplies needed for the Mount Cenis Tunnel, the heavy advances called for by the Italian Peninsular, the Greek Corean and the Prussian Baltic Ship Canals, and the Colossal Railway Ferry project over the English Channel, every one of these novel and stupendous undertakings find the millions ready for it, however hazardous it may be.

We perceive, also, that a number of American enterprises are turning their gaze to Europe in search of the accommodation which they cannot procure at home,—and some companies in the Far West, who are planning new Railroads, find no difficulty in securing, on the German Bourses, all the means that they require.

Now, the contrast of these abundant supplies of money abroad with the curious stagnation that still clings to us in the United States, leads to some peculiar reflections, and one of them takes distinct shape in the query whether, by our lack of sound financial arrangement, this country has not become the very source from which the Old World has drawn and is still drawing the tribute that so swells its coffers. And are we to go on in the same line without an effort at extrication? in fine, is not the financial question the one great demand of the moment? Is not nearly everything else secondary to it, since everything else is shaped and directed, ultimately, by it? There is activity enough, and money making enough, in the agricultural life of the country, to justify a policy by which the enormous mass of American obligations shall be rapidly reduced, and the heavy interest flowing continually thither be retained at home?

One would imagine, not without some show of reason, that the state of affairs to which we allude, and which we see prolonged, in spite of repeated opportunities to amend it, paid a premium for its lease of life. But public attention is becoming more and more alive to the fact that, while nominally independent, this country pays tithes of her products, her industry, and her growth in territory, to foreign owners, whose number is continually increasing. If our own affairs improved in any sort of proportion to the tax thus imposed upon us, our people might be more content; but our business halts, and some great arms of our power wither. Only the natural energy of our people, the exploration of new territory, and the timely aid received from hosts of immigrants, save us from extreme embarrassments. Let us, then, repeat, that the grand business that should still be before our legislators at Washington, is Finance. Taken up in the proper spirit, it may be so regulated as to make 1870, indeed, what we have already styled it, the year of genuine national revival!—N. Y. Merchants Journal, April 14th, 1870.

A Ghost drove an entire family tumultuously from a house in Oswego at a late hour on a recent Sunday night. After a while their excitement was allayed, and on investigation they found that a cow, on a foraging raid, had made her way into a rear kitchen and inserted her head into an empty flour barrel. The barrel became fast on her horns, and, unable to escape the encumbrance, the terrified animal commenced a frantic rampage about the apartment, with the result above described.

A Bloomington boy who found the dead body of his brother, his fellow soldier, on the battle field of Gettysburg, and buried it in a grave dug with his own hands, was surprised a few days ago by the sudden reappearance of that brother, alive and well, at their home. Dead men tell no tales and so he is bound to believe his brother when he assures him he must have buried some other boy's brother.

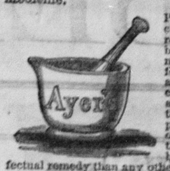
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.



Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends; and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

ROSADALIS.

THE GREAT AMERICAN Health RESTORER, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens. Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says: I take pleasure in recommending your ROSADALIS as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleanser of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro', Tenn., says: I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes, I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

Rosadalis is sold by F. P. Green and Druggists generally.

SADDLERY, to suit the trade, at
IRWIN & WILSON'S

Local Department.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, Apr. 20, 1870.

JOB WORK.—Posters, Circulars, Bill Heads, Cards, Paper Books, Job Work of all kinds, neatly executed at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE, at reasonable rates.

Two six-roomed houses for rent at low rates and in a good neighborhood—good large gardens. Apply to
A. B. HUTCHISON.

THE Baptist denomination assisted by the citizens of Unionville, are about constructing a church at that place.

THE Baptist denomination of Martha Furnace have erected a house of worship which is not completed yet owing to scarcity of funds.

MEETING.—The Reformed Congregation in Rebersburg, have a protracted meeting in that place. We hope much good may be the result.

A NEAT SIGN.—The new sign over Capt. A. B. Snyder's tailoring establishment is one of the neatest and handsomest in town. It was painted by Mr. Charles Dugan.

RAIL ROAD.—The Rail Road question we understand, is not making much headway in Miles township. It appears those well to-do and wealthy old farmers cannot be induced to see their own interest.

HOGS.—We have a law which prevents hogs from running at large in our Borough, yet our streets are full every day of hogs both large and small. This is wrong. Where is our High Constable? The hogs should be kept off the streets. Enforce the law.

MR. HENRY McEWEN, of Walker township, a staunch republican and a worthy citizen, had the misfortune to fall from a load of corn fodder upon his horses which became frightened and ran off injuring the old gentleman it is feared mortally. His scalp was almost entirely taken off and was otherwise injured.

CONTRAST.—There is quite a strong contrast between the trip taken by our Agent last week through the Bald Eagle valley and that taken by "tother fellow" through the "barrens" some time ago. Our Agent returned with a nice list of nice and good subscribers and his pocket full of Greenbacks. While tother fellow called upon 51 of his subscribers and found them all absent or nix kom raus.

SODA FOUNTAIN.—The warm weather last week caused our friend F. S. Wilson, of the Diamond Drug Store, to start up his superior Soda Fountain. It constitutes a delightful and cooling drink. Besides his Soda Fountain Mr. Wilson keeps constantly on hand a large stock of pure and fresh Drugs, Chemicals, Fancy Articles, Perfumery, Brushes, &c. Cigars, the very best always on hand.

SADDLERY.—J. H. McClure & Son, still continue to furnish at their old establishment on Bishop street, first class Harness of every variety—the best collars manufactured in the United States and Saddles manufactured by James McClure, the junior member of the firm which can not be surpassed in this country. Farmers and others will save the price of their subscription to the REPUBLICAN by heeding this notice.

THE smoke house which contained about $50 worth of choice pork belonging to Mr. Dan'l Yothers, of Julian Furnace, was destroyed on the morning of the 14th by fire. Mr. Yothers supposes as also do his neighbors that some one stole the meat and then set fire to the building to hide suspicion. Mr. Yothers is a poor man and had just constructed new buildings. He no doubt feels the loss greatly. Our sympathy is with him.

MESSRS. PATCHEL and Miles of the Julian Furnace Hotel, offer their large and commodious and well fitted hotel for sale cheap. It is one of the best stands in Centre county. A ready sale can be secured by any one calling on them. They also have a large stock of the very best horses for sale cheap—much below current prices. They have a desire to sell out. Any one calling on them can find horses of all sizes, colors, prices and descriptions for sale.

CLEAN UP.—We call upon the Borough fathers to turn their attention to the filthy condition of some of our streets and alleys—especially the alleys. In the streets are piles of ashes, and rubbish which should have been removed weeks ago. Some of the alleys are full of filth, dead cats, dogs and hogs, lying around promiscuously. This is terrible. It is only a few days since we saw a dead hog lying in the street in front of Mr. Brockerhoff's residence. Who is street Commissioner? Who are the proper persons to attend to this cleaning up business? We hope it will be attended to at once.

PHILLIPSBURG.—The Literary society, is flourishing and is growing in interest, and we are pleased to notice it among the agents employed in advancing the interests of education.

At a meeting held on Friday eve., April 8, it was determined to apply for a charter.

They also agreed to take a few shares in the Building and Loan Association.

Also to hold a public session at which two Orations, two Declamations and one Essay will be performed and the reading of a very interesting paper called the "Literary Review."

On Friday evening, April 15, they discussed the feasibility of abolishing Capital punishment.

May success attend all their efforts that are made in the right direction. We hope the society may live long and be handed down in history as a valuable requisite to human perfection.

Y. M. C. A.—The Bellefonte Young Mens' Christian Association, meets in their Room, in Bush's Arcade, on High Street, every Tuesday evening, at half past 7 o'clock. The young men without regard to sect, denomination or profession, are especially invited to attend the Friday evening Meetings, as they will find it a place both interesting and beneficial to them. By coming to the meeting they can become better acquainted with the nature and object of the association, which to know, is to remove prejudice, and opposition, and ensure support. Then come. A prayer meeting is held by the association in their Room every Saturday evening, at half past 7 o'clock, which is general in its character, and to which the membership of all the churches, male and female, and all other persons are most cordially invited, and will be greeted with a happy welcome. The Room of the association is comfortably seated with chairs, and is open every evening, as a reading room, to all persons whether members of the Association or not. The room is now furnished with nine first class daily news papers, and also a number of weeklies and other periodicals, of both a religious and secular character. So that any one desiring to read the news, or other matter can do so very pleasantly in this room. The room is well lighted and very comfortable and freely opened to all—and all who desire should avail themselves of this privilege. Go up, young men and see.

APPEARANCES.—Our Agent Mr. H. O. Kline, tells the following in regard to how he was deceived in appearances. He says: Last week being in the line of duty we had occasion to visit Unionville. We there met Messrs J. & G. Alexander, who are twin brothers. We have seen twins but never before in our life did we see two persons alike in every particular. We entered their store and shook hands with Mr. J. Alexander. We then went away for a short time and came back seeing who we supposed was Mr. J. Alexander therefore we refrained from shaking hands, lest he might think us rather intimate, however we sat down and shortly there came up who we supposed was Mr. G. Alexander we arose stepped forward and shook hands thinking this time it was all right. Imagine our surprise and chagrin when we were informed that we had shaken hands twice with Mr. J. and had all the time slighted Mr. G. We were cased a little on being informed that persons who had been raised with them were unable to tell which is which. Nearly everybody calls them Mr., for they are afraid to venture the name.

They shave their whiskers just the same, are becoming gray one as fast as the other and their tones of voice are exactly alike. We defy any one unacquainted with them to tell them apart.

THANKS.—In behalf of our Agent Mr. H. O. Kline, we hereby tender our thanks to J. & G. Alexander, of Unionville, to Mr. Jno. Hoover, of Julian, and to the Messrs. Thompson, of Martha Furnace, for assistance in securing subscribers. Also to Messrs. Patchel & Miles, of Julian, and to Mr. John I. Thompson, of Martha for their hospitality. To those subscribers who paid Mr. Kline, we can only say, thank you gentlemen, and to the large list of new subscribers procured by Mr. Kline, what can we do but extend to you the right hand of fellowship, and a word of cheer for the glorious cause in which we are engaged and congratulate you in having taken a step in the right direction. A little more work, friends, a little more union of effort, a little more of that faith and perseverance which is said to move mountains, and Centre County will be ours—redeemed, regenerated, disenthralled.

JOS. GREEN, Esq.—On last Saturday Mr. Joseph Green, of Milesburg, while leading his horse to water met with a very serious accident. The beast being young and playful, frisked about until it had secured plenty of strap, when it suddenly wheeled and kicked Mr. Green — one foot striking his lower jaw, breaking both bones thereof. At the same time one of the shoe corks inflicted a deep cut in his left cheek.

Mr. Green was carried to his house in an unconscious state, in which condition he remained for some time. Drs. Potter and Dobbins examined his wounds on Sunday morning, and up to this writing we learn that Mr. Green is doing as well as could be expected.

JUBILEE.—We understand that it is the intention of our colored fellow-citizens to have a glorious jubilee on the 26th of April, in order to show their gratitude for, and their appreciation of, the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment. The Bellefonte Brass Band we learn, have consented, to play for them on that occasion. This is right and proper. The music will be sweet and good, and we have no doubt the colored people will turn out in their full strength. To God and the republican party are they indebted for this glorious privilege. Proclaim Liberty throughout the land and to all the inhabitants thereof.

HOFFER & BRO.—This old and reliable firm, have one of the largest store rooms in this town. It is well filled with the best of Dry Goods, Groceries, Queensware, Clothing, &c. Mr. Jno. Hoffer, the senior partner is well known to the people of this county as a correct and accommodating business man—an honest upright citizen. The people we say know him and therefore his store is constantly crowded with customers. His clerks—Mr. Mat. Dooley and A. B. Erhard are both gentlemenly and obliging, understand their business well, and are emphatically the right men in the right place. We wish them all abundant success.

REMOVAL.—John F. Potter, Attorney at Law, has removed his law office to the North side of the Diamond, directly opposite, the Court House, and near the old jail. Mr. Potter is a man of close application and great industry and should meet with success, because he deserves it.

HAND BOOK.—We are indebted to Mr. Smull, author of the "Pennsylvania Legislative Hand Book," for a copy of the work. It is an excellent book convenient for members of the Legislature, or those wishing to inform themselves in regard to the rules and workings of Parliamentary bodies.

ACCIDENT.—We learn that James Linn, son of Hon. Sam'l Linn, now residing in Williamsport, met with a serious accident one day last week. From what we can learn he was loading his revolver, when it went off, the ball passing through the palm of his hand making a severe wound. We are sorry for James.

PUBLIC SALE.—Geo. Livingston, Attorney in Fact for the Executors of Jas. D. Turner's Estate, will sell at public outcry at the Court House, on Thursday, April the 28th, 12 town lots in a good locality; also a Windmill, a patent strawcutter, and five acres of grain in the ground. There are bargains in these lots.

LOST.—On Monday evening the 18th, between the depot and Garman's hotel, a pocket diary, name on front and back leaf with one five dollar note in, some Postage stamps, fishing flies and troll, the finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at Garman's Hotel or REPUBLICAN office.
THOS. G. WEIRICK.

NOTICE.—Mrs. Bingham will lecture in the Good Templars Hall, next week, on Friday evening, at 7½ o'clock, her subject is "The Temperance of the Bible." Mrs. B, is authorized to form juvenile societies and desires to see all interested in the welfare of the young. A collection will be taken at the close of the lecture. v2n15 2t.

AT COST.—We are informed that J. & G. Alexander Merchants at Unionville, have determined to sell off their entire stock of Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots & Shoes, Queensware, &c., at cost. They desire to dispose of their goods in this way, so as to dispose of them speedily, as they wish to repair and enlarge their store room, preparatory to purchasing another supply. For further particulars see Posters.

POTTER & GREGG.—We are informed that the farmers of Potter, Gregg and Harris townships, are becoming aroused on the Railroad question and many of them have subscribed right liberally. A large number, however, are hanging back and as yet have done nothing. This is a question which interests every individual in Pennsvalley and one which should arouse all their pride and energy and call out all their wealth. We trust, it will not be long till we will be informed that the necessary funds are all subscribed.

LECTURE.—G. Omit Diese, Lock Haven's celebrated wit and mimic proposes to stir up the risibilities of our citizens with a comic lecture on Fun, in Reynolds' Hall on the 26th inst. As Omets party has effectually played the "Nague" out of politics. Omit must in some shape give vent to his exhilerating spirits or "bust." He has now selected for his subject the commodity usually called fun, an article that this community just now stands in much need of. Those wishing to see one of Clinton county's rarest natural, un-natural or otherwise, productions, should by all means put in an appearance at Omit's lecture. It is for the benefit of the Good Templars.

EASTER SUNDAY.—Without discussing the question as to the real historical time when Easter Sunday should be observed we shall take it for granted that last Sabbath was Easter Sunday, and all the churches in this place we think agree with us, for they all observed the day by appropriate ceremonies, or preaching.

Rev. McGovern, paster of the Catholic Church, in this place preached an excellent sermon appropriate to the occasion. The singing at the Catholic Church, in which Drs. Hibler and Harris, Miss Sarah Farley, Ed. Nolan, P. McCaffrey, Mat. Dolan and others participated, is said to be equal to any vocal music ever listened to in this town. It was indeed a day of rejoicing in the Catholic Church.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—The well established and reliable firm of Graham & Son, have just received from the Eastern Cities a large and well selected stock of Boots and Shoes, consisting of Gentlemens' boots, gaiters, box toes, &c., Ladies' gaiters, Balmorals, Button boots, as well as every variety of ladies', Misses' and children's shoes. They have a number of hands employed who are engaged in manufacturing all kinds of Boots and shoes worn either by ladies or gentlemen. The senior member of this firm has done business for many years in this place, and has established an enviable reputation. The firm of Graham & Son have been in existence over two years and have carried on business in such a manner, and have satisfied their customers so fully, as to add to the well earned reputation of this house.

A SUDDEN CHANGE.—Recently a lady residing in Pennsvalley paid our friend Moore the artist, a visit for the purpose of having her photograph taken. Wishing to have the duplicate as fair to look upon as the original, she dipped her handkerchief in a vessel which she supposed contained water, but which contained nitrate of silver, and with her alabaster hands gently rubbed it over her lilly white face. She then had her photograph taken and returned home. Upon her arrival she just took only one peep in her mirror, and O, horror of horrors, and to the great consternation and surprise of herself and friends, she and they discovered that the lilly-white face had changed to the somber hue of a Fifteenth Amendment.

We understand that she is reeking her vengeance upon the artist and says that he must be a black Republican to have wrought so sudden a change upon her physiognomy. It was not Mr. Moore, Madam, but the nitrate of silver. It will all come off in a week or two.

LUMBERMAN—your communication will appear next week.

LOST.—On Saturday night, on the pike between Bellefonte and Milesburg, a large black Diary, The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving the same at the REPUBLICAN Office.
GEO. P. HILLIBISH.

GARDEN SEEDS.—If you want a nice garden; if you want a good garden; if you don't want to be deceived by worthless seeds; if you want good and pure seeds, true to name, call at the Book Store of J. D. Miller, Post Office Building, and purchase C. W. Lambert's Sunny Side Garden Seeds, or order by mail. Address, C. W. Lambert, Bellefonte, Pa. All seeds sent postage paid

ENTERPRISE.—Messrs. Drury & Bowie have just got through canvassing this town, for cards from our leading business men, for two Hotel Registers—for the Brockerhoff House and the Bush House. Their style of advertising, we think well of, it is neat and attractive. They only advertise for one of each line of business and the best dealers in each town or city. The books will be delivered in about two weeks. Mr. Bowie, whose acquaintance we formed, is very much of a gentleman, and is an industrious, reliable, and energetic man. The books are copy-righted.

PRETY GOOD—A hungry man last week at the table, of one of the Hotels in this place upon being asked whether he would have beef stake or fish replied yes. This not being satisfactory to the waiter, she again asked him, and received the same reply. She reiterated her question but with no better effect. She became impatient and left him, returning in a few minutes bringing him a plate full of both beef stake and fish, which appeared to be what he wanted and suited his taste exactly. This must have happened at the Cummings House for his boarders tell us he eats a first rate table, Fish beef steak or anything else you want.

FIRE.—On Friday night last, the American Match-stick manufactory situate at Moshannon town, Snow Shoe township, was totally destroyed by fire. Also a new flouring mill, which we understand was not finished. Both the Match stick factory and the flouring mill were the property of Hurxthall & Co. Insured in the Lycoming Mutual and the Cumberland Mutual Insurance Companies, each $2,500. A policy for $3,000 in the Buffalo Insurance Co., Rankin & Irwin, Agents, was cancelled on the 3d day of April, 1870. The loss sustained by Messrs. Hurxthall & Co., over and above the insurance, we learn, will be fully $15,000.

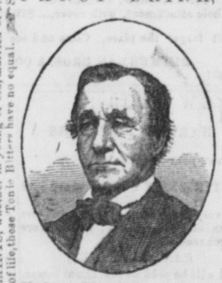
PLANTATION BITTERS.
S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid, it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates of tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits. For sale by all druggists. v2n12-6m.

THE GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
MORE THAN 500,000 PERSONS Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?
THEY ARE NOT A VILE
FANCY DRINK,



Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and Refuse Liquors, declared spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine made from the native Roots and Herbs of California free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and Life Giving Principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator, of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins: cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, these Bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French, and Spanish.

J. WALKER, Prop'r, 32 Commerce, St., N. Y. R. A. McDONALD & CO., Druggist, and general Agents, San Francisco and Sacramento, California, and 32 & 34 Commerce St., N. Y.

They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion, or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and also people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,

RANGING FROM $6.50 TO $18.00 —the very best.

ON THE SHORTEST NOTICE.

This company is composed of practicable mechanics, and Samuel Adams, one of the Co., has been foreman of the Bellefonte Planing Mill since its commencement.

Connected with the mill, and in operation at all times, is one of the latest improved

COKE DRYING KILNS;

which leaves the lumber in a perfectly healthy state, assists in preserving it, and in fact adds to its lasting qualities, while other methods of drying deteriorate, and renders it more liable

TO DECAY AND WASTE.

Lumber dried in a Coke kiln, is dried perfectly, and when worked and put up, will not

SHRIVEL AND SHRINK,

thus giving buildings the appearance of having been erected out of Green Material

We know that our facilities give us every advantage over other

PLANING MILLS IN THIS SECTION

and we feel perfectly free in saying, that all our

WORK WILL BE GUARANTEED,

to be of

A SUPERIOR QUALITY.

We will furnish anything in our line from a door panel, to a

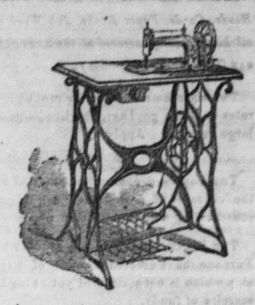
SEWING MACHINE.

THE SINGER SEWING MACHINE



Among sewing machines, those made by the Singer Manufacturing Company, rank with the highest. Their manufacturing machines, have long been known as the best for manufacturing purposes. But within the past few years, they have given special attention to the production of a destined to win much favor in the HOUSEHOLD.

The machine which they now offer is quite light-running, simple, fast, noiseless. Its accessories for

HEMMING, BRAIDING, BINDING,
QUILTING, TUCKING, CORDING
PELLING, GATHERING,

are simple and easily understood. Its delicate though enduring and tireless muscles of iron and steel, do all the work noiselessly, better, and few will deny, "Faster than hand can do it." They urge those wishing to purchase a machine, to examine all the other manufactures before buying, as it will, for itself, overcome all the objections to the other machines that can be brought against it. Machines on hand for sale and exhibition, together with a full and complete assortment of

and the accessories for the machine, by

MUSIC, DRAWING AND PAINTING SCHOOL.

Mrs. M. S. DUNHAM

having been a successful teacher of Vocal and Instrumental Music—Piano, Melodian, Organ and thorough Bass—Painting and Drawing, for the last twelve years, is now prepared to admit a few more scholars to her school, upon reasonable terms.

Having recently received a splendid new Piano, of a celebrated Boston manufacture, which, pupils not having instruments of their own to practice on, can have the use of.

Thankful for the liberal patronage heretofore received, she hopes to merit a continuance of the same. Rooms up one flight of stairs, over Centre Co. Banking House, on Allegheny street. Also, agent for all kinds of good Musical Instruments. Address, or call on her at her rooms, at Bellefonte, Pa. jy21'69-tf.
